Here's' my notes about love from June 2022

Life goes on, loves

After some events my father prescribed me to have fun and sent me on a week-long cruise alone. We were sailing from Southampton (where the Titanic had its maiden and final voyage) then to France and Spain. I'm sorry, but I have to make Titanic jokes all the time.

On the evening of the first day I met Julia - she is 72 years old and an avid cruiser. After I told her that it was my first voyage (and alone!), she - for half an hour - was telling me about her first love and about each of her daughter's boyfriends. Julia said: "In 2 years you will look at him and think things." I still believe Julia.

And I met William. We were sitting at neighboring tables at dinner. He sat alone and constantly looked out of the window at the big water. As a person with a very complicated and vivid imagination, I already was coming up with his story: maybe his wife died, they always went on cruises together, and now he's alone. On the last day I gathered my courage to ask him if he was alone on this cruise. To my surprise, the truth turned out
